

CREATOR '80
A TOUCH OF CLASS

The rainbow inevitably alights upon the proverbial pot-of-gold.

The ocean ceaselessly strives to grasp the shore.

The sun consistently makes contact with the sea
at the end of the day.

Throughout our lives we continuously touch others by our thoughts and actions.

Yet the final touch is impressed upon us in our Senior year by Archbishop Prendergast High School.

Some people call it refinement, but the Crozier staff of Nineteen Hundred Eighty refers to it as class.

THE POPE'S VISIT

Kindness, understanding, respect and concern radiated from John Paul II, the young people's Pope, as he passed through the streets of Philadelphia on October third and fourth. Those fortunate enough to attend the Mass offered at Logan Circle and those who watched the Pope on television were deeply affected by his unmistakable aura of love and peace.

Students from the schools throughout the Archdiocese helped to welcome the Pope by acting as ushers for the clergy and multitudes of lay people. Receiving special recognition for their outstanding service were the members of Prendie's Student Council who graciously escorted countless pilgrims to their seats on the two days in which Philadelphia truly became a "City of Brotherly Love."

HIERARCHY

His Eminence John Cardinal Krol,
Archbishop of Philadelphia

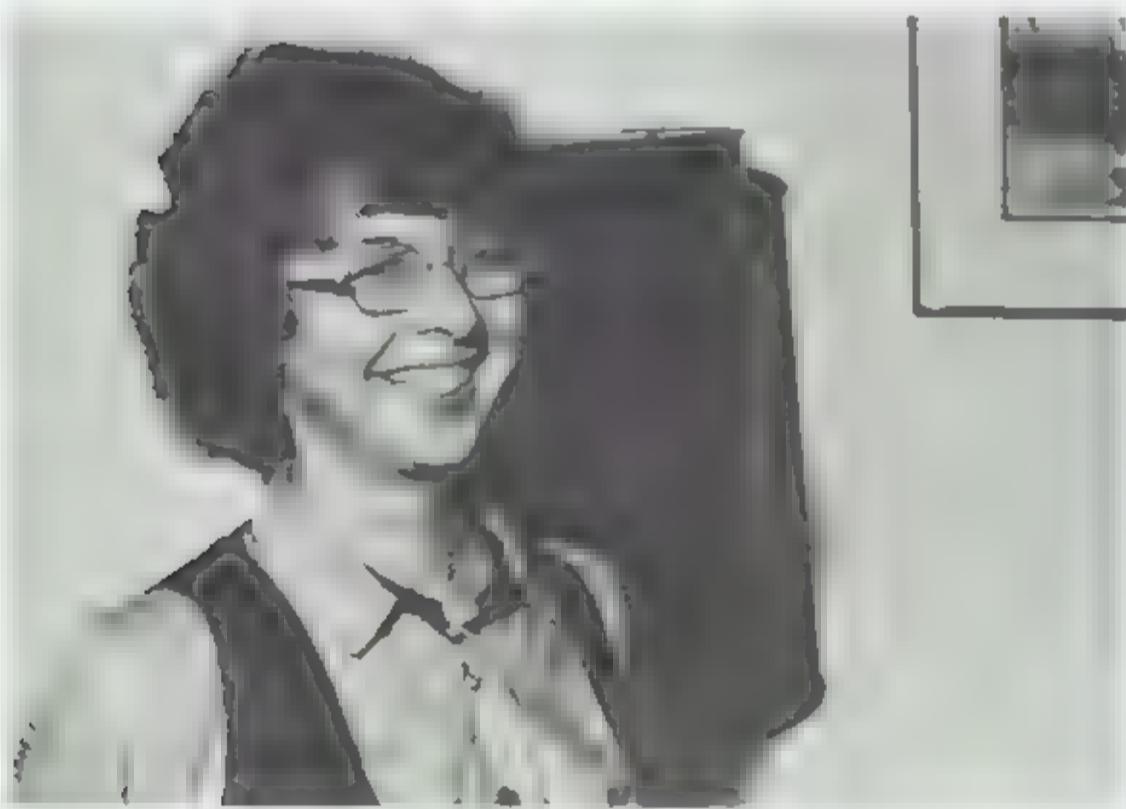

Monsignor Francis X. Schulte,
Superintendent of Schools

Sœur Anna Josephine S.S.
Principale

M. Sœur Oly. Mayer
Vice Principale

ADMINISTRATION

Sister Anna Josephine and Miss Mayer brainstorm educational improvements which they continuously implement at Prendegast.

One of the many new faces that added even more color to the freshly painted hallways in September was Miss Julia Mayer, new Vice-Principal.

In order to stay in tune with the beat of the student body, Sister Anna Josephine keeps in direct contact with the Student Council.

Principal and Vice-Principal enjoy the after-hours job of being in the receiving line at the Ring Dance.

Coordinators

School Coordinators lead students to a greater appreciation of Prendie spirit, academic achievement, and needful discipline. Sister Mary Immaculata, R.S.M., Director of Studies, guides girls in scholastic areas, while Sister Bernard Eileen, S.S.J., Disciplinarian, guards with a watchful eye. Sister Mary Jogues, I.H.M., Director of Activities, channels school spirit through countless undertakings.

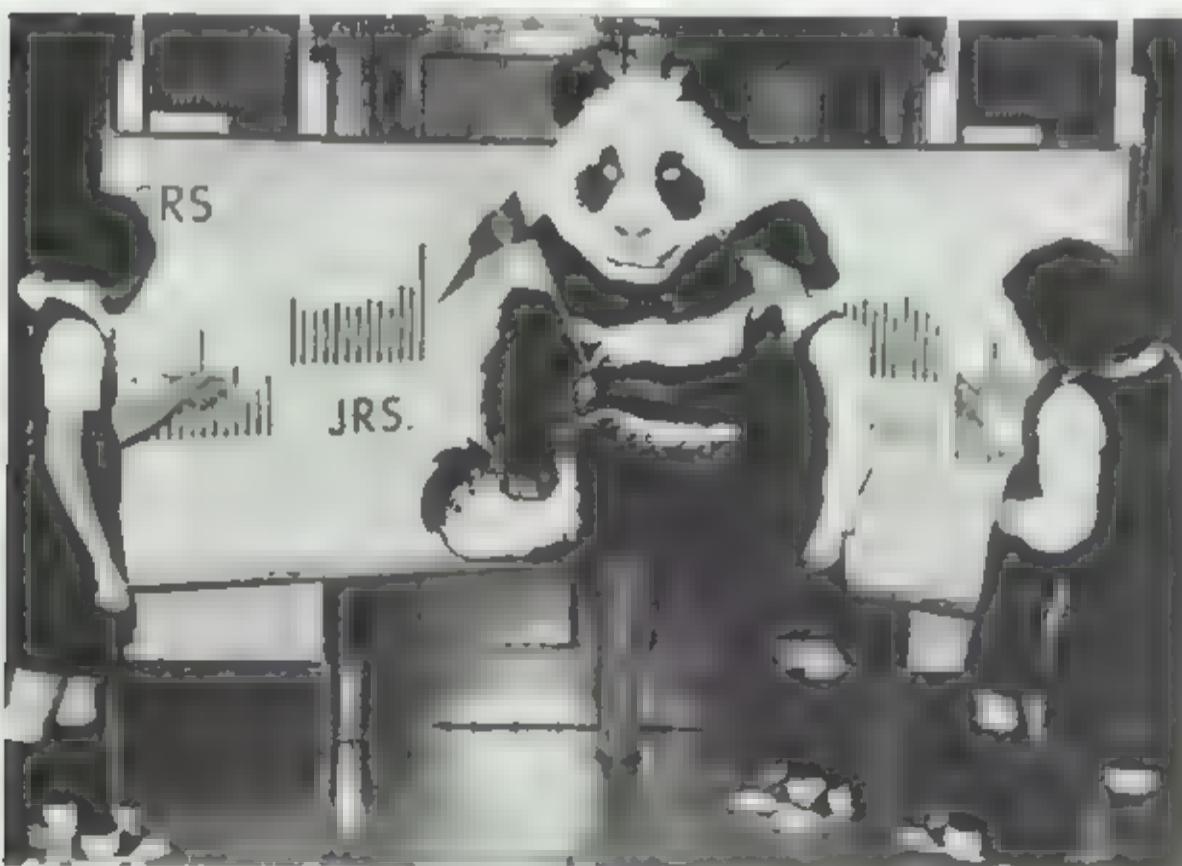

Beyond enforcing school regulations, the chief concern of Sister Bernard Eileen, S.S.J., is that students develop ideal principles of Christian responsibility and leadership.

Mastermind of a gigantic roster board, meaning there is "a place for everyone and everyone in her place" is Sister Mary Immaculata, R.S.M.

Sister Immaculata discusses course selection with an eager student.

Seniors check their progress in the annual drive, a major project of the Activities Office.

Sister Mary Jogues, I.H.M., easily spread the Prendie spirit as she distributed hundreds of pandas during the School Improvement Drive.

Special Services

Sister Mary Rita holds an impromptu conference in the Guidance Office

Sister Mary Rita Boyle divides her time between the Activities and Guidance Offices

Sister Clare Emmanuel has the immohtask of compiling attendance data

Sister Helen Raphael keeps in order the records of lateness and demerits

The Discipline Office is one of the busiest spots at Prendie

Guidance

"Tears, fears, and feeling proud . . ." Counselors lend an ear and give advice on vocational, educational, and personal problems. Various enrichment services are offered such as the gifted and remedial programs which cater to students' individual needs. The door to the Guidance Department is always open, and Mrs. Maria Marino and her assistants are waiting with willing shoulders and dedicated hearts.

Sister Mary Evarista coordinates Prendergast participation in Delaware County Intermediate Unit services.

Visits of college representatives attract students during lunch periods.

Guidance Counselor Mrs. Maria Marino welcomes all with her sincere desire to listen as well as advise.

Sister Mary Consolata helps Brenda Miller and Leslie Simmons in career planning.

Sister Mary Consolata knows all the answers to the endless questions about college.

School Ministry

Father Michael Dabrowski offers his time and understanding during the Freshman Penance Service

The friendly, contagious smile of School Minister Father David Givey is familiar to all

Father Thomas Mullin pauses from his reading as he prepares an inspirational homily

Father Paul Kennedy prepares to celebrate a class Mass

Father David Givey congratulates joyous seniors after the Ring Mass

Father James Grogan, Father F. J. Fazal, and Father Kevin Troutner celebrate Mass.

The magnetic colors and careful detail of the stained-glass chapel windows enhance the atmosphere of reflection.

Saying Mass and hearing confessions are two important duties of the School Minister, Father David Givey, and the four chaplains who assist him. But they are also always available as indispensable friends in times of trouble and as sources of encouragement and concern in times of joy and decision. Their Christ-like manner is constantly making the presence of Jesus more readily felt in the Prendergast Community.

Father Kevin Troutner leaves school contentedly after a full day.

SENIORS

TOP OF CLASS

Successful teams have their all-stars, popular rock groups have their lead-singers, and Prendergast High School has its top forty-five. While sports demand conditioning and music involves practice, being the top of the class requires working to the full extent of God-given mental capacity. The girls who have achieved this distinction have proved to be an incentive to the rest of the student body to reach for the highest academic goals and to attain their fullest potential in every phase of life.

In Memory of Our Friends

Dorothy Buchanan
August 17, 1961—February 9, 1978

I would just like to try to express the feelings I have for Dee. Dee was unique, I never met anyone like her. She was strong, she never let her problems show

We all loved her.

She would always be there whenever anyone needed someone to listen to and help with a problem.

She supported us when we needed someone to lean on

In remembering Dee, I'll remember the good and the bad times. I treasure, and always will, the memories that we had. In losing Dee, I feel I lost not only a friend and a sister, but a part of myself as well. I will always hear her laugh in my mind and I will always see her smile. It lighted up her face, as the sun lights up the sky at dawn. I see her eyes that were bluer and prettier than the clearest sky in spring. Dee, I know, is here with us now, and will be forever. I tell you we love you now, and will forever

Carol Gilooley

Dawn Hanson
January 20, 1963—May 4, 1979

Her laugh filling the air with joy,

Her smile spreading childlike happiness

Eyes blue within, reflecting life as the sun reflects on the sea
Beauty can never be captured—only relinquished.

Death be not meaningless. Let it be full of new life. She silently departed from this world. Sadness of it creeps through backstairs of my mind. Eventually, pain erases with time. Memories stay forever new.

Dawn brings light

We sing away eeriness of night.

To us who are so blind, opening eyes will find her presence always near. Keep friendship we must, remembering as we whisk into the heavens. Passing days soon shall find us with our loved ones.

National Honor Society

Membership in the National Honor Society represents one of the greatest honors a student can achieve. Those girls who have maintained a general average of eight-five and possess outstanding qualities of Leadership, Scholarship, Character, and Service are thereby eligible.

During a candlelight Induction Ceremony sophomore probationary members are inducted into the Prendergast Chapter while junior and senior members are re-inducted. With the help of moderator Sister Mary Immaculata, members tutor classmates when academic assistance is needed.

Religion

By reflection on revelation under the guidance of the faculty of the Religion Department, the mystery of God and His world is made clearer to students. The Old and New Testaments, moral ethics, Christian philosophy, and the history of the Church are some of the topics covered in the four-year religion program. The aim of all religious studies is to provide students with a deeper understanding of their faith and ultimately, a deeper personal commitment to Jesus Christ in the community of the Church.

This senior religion class sees the humorous side of one of Mr. Spires' endless anecdotes on love and marriage.

Mr. Spires reads from the Bible in readings of Matthew and Mark with today's moral situations.

Hands seem to be a vital part of Sister Robert Cecilia's morality class.

Social Studies

Through an in-depth look at the past students gain a unique insight of the present. Courses such as American History, World Cultures, and Sociology acquaint girls with the cultures and civilizations of other lands and the problems existing within American society today. With the help of the faculty of the Social Studies Department, a more objective view of the world is possible, equipping students with the necessary knowledge of the past to guide them in the future

The department, headed by Sister Mary Concepta, provides cultural experiences through French Spanish, and Latin electives which enable students to touch a part of European cultures. Besides an enrichment of the foreign language student's personal life, an ability to communicate with native speakers of the language studied is the hoped-for goal of the serious student

Science

2 liters of interest + 3 liters of understanding \rightarrow 5 liters of devotion produced by the faculty of the Science Department. In today's fast-paced society, a basic knowledge of science and technology is essential. Physics, Introductory Physical Science, Biology, Environmental Science, and Chemistry are offered to students in both required courses and advanced levels. Through experimental methods and modern equipment, the women of tomorrow explore the realms of science to gain understanding of man and his universe.

Mathematics

"Bleep . . . slopes . . . triangles . . . equations . . . It - does - not - compute." states a new member of the Mathematics Department. The new computer explores and explains primary theories, complicated functions, and the reasoning behind them to girls seeking aid in these areas. The computer, however, is not the only mastermind in the department. The enthusiastic faculty offers courses in the basics of Algebra I as well as Advanced Mathematics, Mathematics for Nursing, College Preparatory Mathematics, and Consumer Mathematics. The department, headed by Sister Jean Streibig, provides students with knowledge necessary for fields such as Engineering, Computer Science, and Medicine

Business

The ceaseless tip-tapping from the typing rooms on the third floor provides an atmosphere of mellow background music to accompany the silent, pondering overtones of students at work. Typing, stenography, notehand, and accounting classes are centers for development of speed, poise, and personality. Thus, girls who take secretarial courses are adequately equipped for finding and keeping a good job in the business world.

Fine Arts

Artistic silence, musical harmony, and occasional sore throats, are the basic characteristics of the Fine Arts Department. Through constant training, students further vocal, instrumental, and creative abilities to their fullest extent.

In art classes, various topics such as printing, pastel drawing, figure sketching, and painting are taught. The orchestral and choral classes stress the finer points of music for appreciation as well as for performance. Girls not enrolled in these specialized courses touch upon the music and art of the changing times through the General Music and Art programs.

Miter

Providing updated information which is necessary to keep students well informed is a large responsibility. This task is tackled through the thorough coverage and informative writing of Prendie's press. With fine editing and enthusiastic reporting the Miter is released five times a year. Between each distribution there is much strenuous work as deadlines are met. The constant dedication of the staff results in a very popular paper for the reading enjoyment of the entire Prendegast community.

Facets

Through the combination of diverse styles of writing from the entire student body Facets evolves as an expressive collection of short stories, poetry, and other creatively written fiction and non-fiction articles. It also incorporates the efforts of student artists who provide illustrations for the literary compositions with imaginative doodles. Through this magazine the rapidly disappearing art of writing is given a booster shot of hope and allows girls a chance to display their abilities.

Excellence is acquired through hard work and determination by students who refuse to settle for anything less than their best. These girls constitute the various honor societies in Prendie. Through Tri-M, the Modern Music Masters, vocalists and instrumentalists donate their services at secular and liturgical events. The Spanish and French Honor Societies distinguish those girls who have mastered the art of foreign language. Chorus

It is no wonder that Chorus is a very popular activity at Prendie. The many joys of singing for special school shows and beautiful liturgies far outweigh all the work involved in each performance. There is a special kind of happiness that comes with singing in local nursing homes and religious services outside the school when total strangers become friends through beautiful music. All of this joy culminates in the Spring Musicale, the grand finale of the year.

The Folk Group guitarists, flutists, bass players, violinists, and vocalists use their God-given talents to produce harmonious melodies for liturgical and secular performances.

Masque & Mime

Projecting themselves into diverse characterizations and situations, Masque and Mime players receive much instruction in dramatic techniques before they perform in plays and assemblies. Interest, enthusiasm and many hours of rehearsal make acting on the stage almost a way of life for these girls.

Before reaching stardom, each actress must learn basic skills. Through the Freshman Drama Club, girls develop their own performing talents and exhibit them in May for the faculty, friends, and family.

Appreciating life in all its mystery and beauty, members of the Respect Life Club try to impress upon the students at Prendie the importance of knowledge and compassion in the struggle for life. The club promotes a pro-life stand through visiting homes for elderly people, attending lectures on the Right to Life, and joining in the March for Life in Washington, D.C. on January twenty-second.

Respect Life

Members of the Respect Life Club work together to honor life and defend its worth.

Serving the Community

Diligence, devotion, and dedication are necessary for all members of the Community Service Corps. They extend their services to those outside the Prendie community in a variety of works which are designed to help everyone. PATH is a foster-sister program. YES members visit the poor and the elderly in Little Flower Nursing Home and St. John's Hospice. Poor children receive toys on Christmas through the work of Operation Santa Claus. Horizons encourages weekend retreats at Camp John Neumann. The best known of the CSC projects is the program in which girls tutor underprivileged children who have a problem with math or reading.

Who ever thought rolling a ball down an alley could be so much fun, cause so much excitement, and involve so many skills? Bowling is the combination of precision, timing, technique ability, and, of course, a little luck. These traits produce the winning qualities which enable Prendie's bowling team to score endlessly and remain in the top of their class. Basketball

With hands down, Prendie's top ranking basketball team can bounce balls around its opponents. Through the skilled guidance and expert coaching of Mr. Joseph Thurwanger, the Pandas prepare for a successful and enthusiastic season combining tireless practices with long term dedication. Their consistent efforts and high hopes result in the ultimate perfection of the skills and techniques necessary to rank among champions.

Will the block be successful or will the ball safely return to the home team?

Concentration plus hope enable Liz Conrahan to make that point.

Play if you wish, but you can't block Prendie's shot.

ACTIVITIES

Installation

The real first day of the 1979-1980 school year was September twenty-sixth, the day on which a huge crowd gathered in the Archbishop Prendergast auditorium to witness the inauguration of the president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of the student body. Also on the stage were the various leaders of clubs and other activities, who at this time accepted their responsibilities and received recognition for their new status. The excitement and inspiring words of the day provided a strong cornerstone upon which a year of myriad accomplishments was built.

Ring Day

Prendie Day

The halls are alive with the sound of freshmen

The spirit has been here for a long, long time and is passed down from year to year to the newest members of the Prendie family. On October sixteenth the frosh were welcomed by a play based on the Sound of Music which stressed the vital importance of having school spirit and participating in clubs and activities. The freshmen also received letters from their senior big-sisters and were honored by an early dismissal

Junior Prom

Once upon a time on the sixth of April nineteen hundred seventy-nine, the dreams and anticipations of the class of 1980 were fulfilled as their long awaited Junior Prom arrived. The enchanted evening created memories for all the princes and princesses who attended and was a night that will "Always and Forever" remain special.

Special Times

Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas are special times at school as well as home with traditions for everyone to participate in and enjoy. Halloween is celebrated with a party which benefits the works of CSC. Thanksgiving is a time of giving to the baskets of food collected in all homerooms for needy families. The multitude of Christmas traditions include decorating the school, providing toys for Operation Santa Claus, and the Christmas carol performance of Prendie musicians as everyone leaves for the Christmas holidays.

Dad-Daughter Dance

On November 9, the seniors had their chance to become again "Daddy's little girls." Both dads and daughters carried on Prendie tradition at the annual Dad-Daughter Dance by boogie-ing the night away to the music of the Contemporaries. The dads caught up on the latest steps such as the "rock," as their daughters attempted to perfect the fox-trot and the mummers-strut.

Christmas Show

The central idea of the Christmas Show was the United Nations theme of the International Year of the Child. The characters portrayed represented children of France, England, Poland, Spain, and Africa. The Orchestra provided international folk songs while the Chorus and Folk Group performed various popular Yuletide favorites and traditional folk songs.

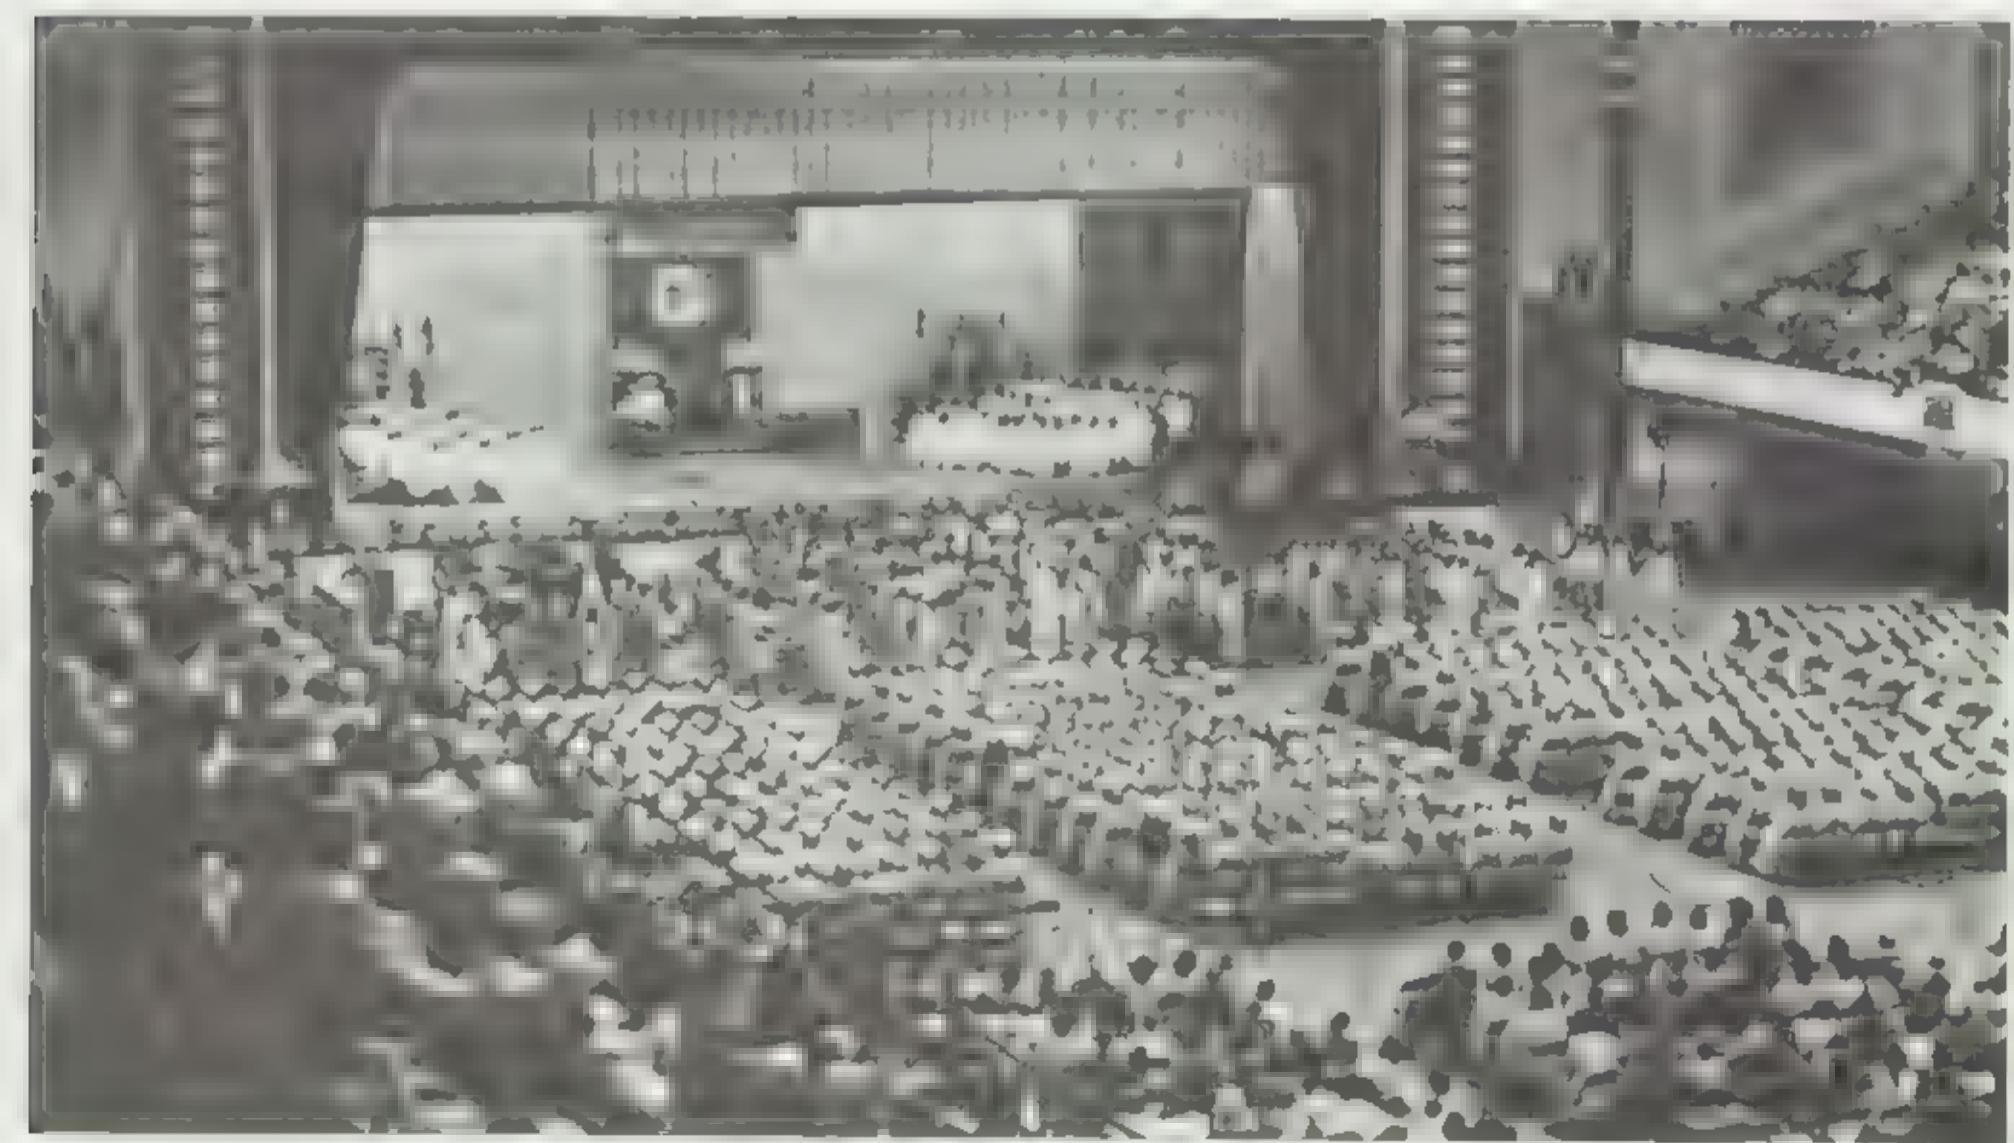

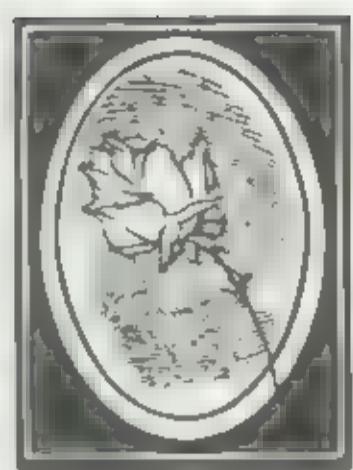

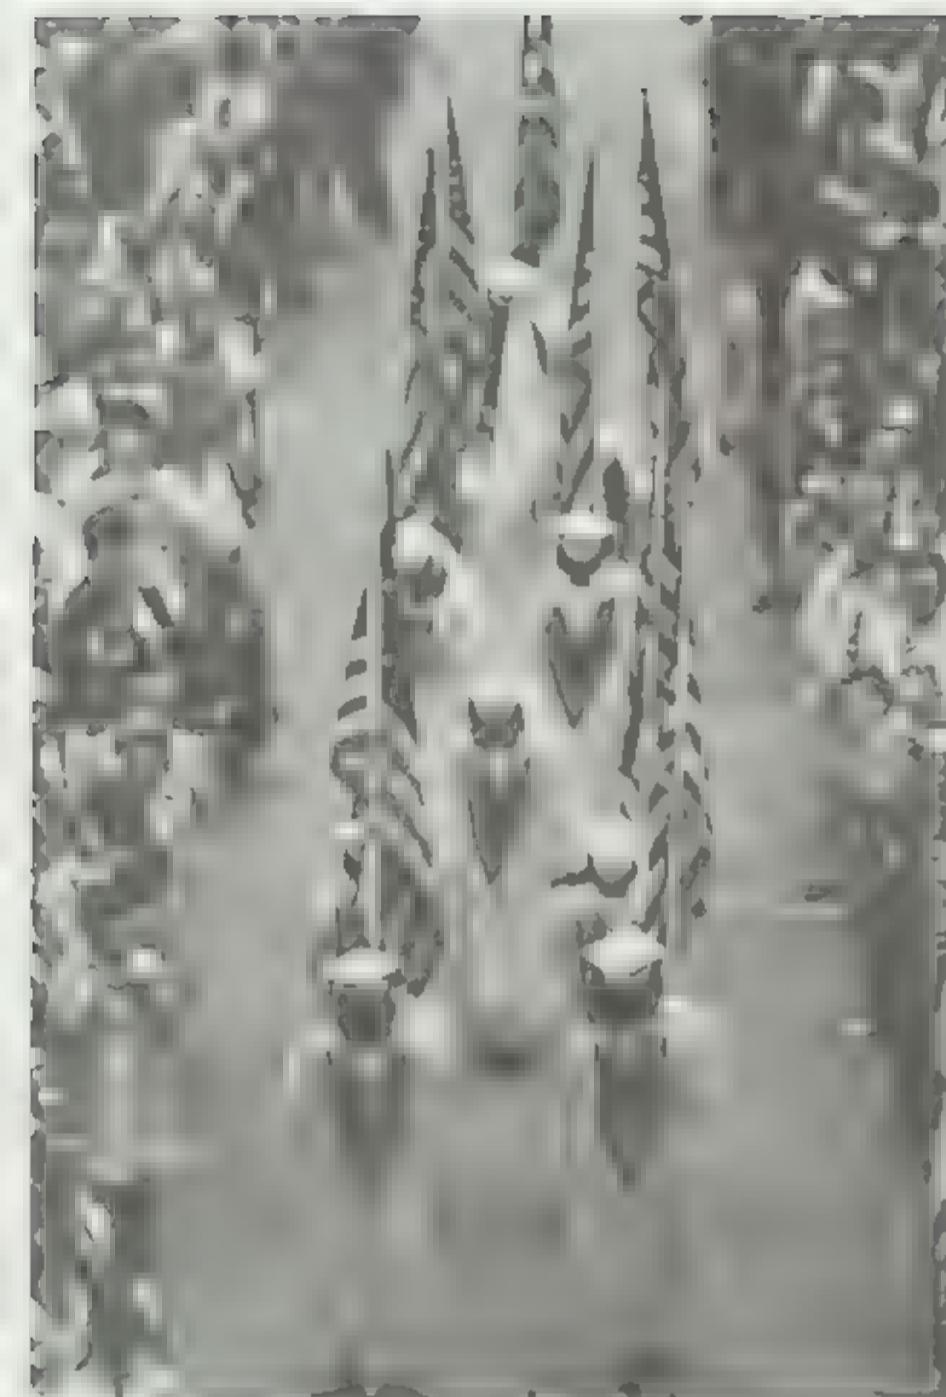

Graduation—Nineteen Hundred Eighty

If the words are left unspoken, they'll probably never be said.
For there was a time and a place to share the thought.
If there is a gesture—on embrace, a kiss, a pat-on-the-back, left ungiven—
It'll probably never be received.
For there was a time and a place to pass the love along.
If friends are left without some remembrance, they'll surely all forget.
For there was a time and place to make a memory.
But if the memory was stored,
and the love was passed from one to another,
and the words were thoughtfully expressed,
There is cause to be happy,
for the opportunities of friendship have not been wasted.
And today the voices, hearts, and bodies of many share a single soul.

As the sun must set,
And the night must follow
And the rainbow must eventide / vanish into him / it expanding its aureole / even as the sun
amongst the clouds
So must our days at Prendergast come to an end
Through which 'e must end
